First-Time Log-In Tutorial for The Hive

To access The Hive, go to: https://hive.andover.edu

The log-in screen on the right will appear.

On the Microsoft sign-in screen, enter your current Hive username and add @andover.edu. This will be your new username. Please note, you do not have an Andover email associated with this account. It is simply a username.

Username Name Example
Old Username: njones1234
New Username: njones1234@andover.edu

If you have an existing email account listed, select Use another account. Add your new Hive username.

The 2nd screen will populate your username. Enter the same password that you have been using to access The Hive. There is no change.

Hit Sign In.
